About the University:

The University of North Bengal was established by an Act of the Legislature of West Bengal in 1962 with the mission “to encourage and provide for instruction for teaching, training and research in various branches of learning and course of study; to promote advancement and dissemination of knowledge and learning and to extend higher education to meet the growing needs of society”. It is recognized by the University Grants Commission under Section 2(f) and 12(B) of its Act and is accredited by the NAAC with Grade A.

The University of North Bengal is located in Raja Rammohunpur at Siliguri. It is the largest city in the North Bengal and the second largest city of West Bengal at the latitude of 26°72” and the longitude is 88’41”. Siliguri is situated at the foothills of the Himalayan mountain range in the plains. It connects the hill stations like Gangtok, Rangpo, Kalimpong, Kurseong, Mirik and Darjeeling with the rest part of the India, also being known as the gateway if Northeast India. It is also the meeting point of four international borders of Nepal, China, and Bangladesh and India.

The University of North Bengal campus covers an area of nearly 331 acres of land at the foothills of high Himalayas in close proximity of vast plains around it with a fascinating glimpse of the Kanchenjunga peak, tea gardens and forest cover. The University of North Bengal has acquired 36.138 acres of land and has already started another campus at Danguajhar, Jalpaiguri by the side of the campus of Jalpaiguri Government Engineering College for widening the dimension and scope of Higher Education and Research in one more Centre for Higher Education through modern studies for spreading advancement of learning in various branches of Humanities, Science and Technology in order to reach the people of this region in a bigger way so that they can have better and easier access to Higher Education.

The University of North Bengal, since its inception in 1962, has been fulfilling the objectives of imparting higher education and research to the people of this socio-economically backward area of the country. It was the first University that earlier served predominantly rural areas in six districts: Darjeeling, Jalpaiguri, Cooch Behar, Malda, Uttar Dinajpur and Dakshin Dinajpur. Not only students from Siliguri and its surrounding areas like Darjeeling, Cooch Behar, Jalpaiguri, North Dinajpur, South Dinajpur, Malda and the states of Sikkim choose this University for their study but also the students from neighboring areas like Bangladesh, Bhutan and Nepal also choose it as the way to get the success.

With the global advancement and increasing knowledge in society in the arena of higher education and research, the University has shouldered the responsibility of dissemination of knowledge by judicious expansion of its role in advanced, non-conventional, applied and job-oriented fields keeping the quality of education at par with global standards at low cost. The main motto of this University is “Enlightenment to Perfection” to improve individual lives and enrich wider society.
The University has taken initiatives in qualitative growth by way of achieving excellence. The Departments are well-equipped with research programs from various agencies and have received academic distinctions and recognitions.

About the Department of Food Technology:

The Department of Food Technology will be starting M.Sc. course (2 years) in Food Technology and PhD in Food Technology from the academic session 2019-2020.

Food Technology is one of the major streams in the branch of science that deals with the novel techniques involved in producing, bioprocessing, preservation, fermentation, packaging, labelling, quality management, safety assessment, marketing and entrepreneurship of food products. It involves an amalgamation of physical, chemical or microbiological processes and techniques of raw ingredients transformation into food and also other forms in food processing industry. There is an extensive research behind making food items edible as well as nutritious. Research in this area has led to the development of newer techniques in food science and the development of nutritious and healthy foods. The extensive course curriculum amalgamated with hands-on experience will furnish the students to address contemporary challenges and solve future emergencies in the food sector.

The growth of agriculture is essential for meeting food, fibre and other demands of rising populations to enhance rural livelihoods and to stimulate national economic growth. The climatic location of Darjeeling districts comprises of humid montane northern slope area (Darjeeling), super-humid montane southern slope (Sonada and Kurseong) and the super-humid terai area (Siliguri, Jalpaiguri, Birpara, Falakata, Malbazar, Alipurduar, Cooch-behar, Dinhata, Mathabhanga). Among six Agri Exports Zones in West Bengal, Siliguri is included as one of the food parks for pineapple and ornamental flowers by the State Govt. The regions in the Darjeeling district harbours rich agrodiversity with the well known cash crops like tea and large cardamom; paddy, maize, millets and ginger; fruits like oranges, guava, banana, pineapple, mangoes, litchi, jack fruit and vegetables like squash or chayote (Sechium edule), cabbage, cauliflower, radish, potatoes, tomatoes, mushroom, bay leaves, dalle khorsani (round chilli) etc. Also the climatic condition of the hills is best suited for the production of oranges in the districts of Darjeeling, the production of which has declined over the years. Pineapple is one of the most important tropical fruit grown in the north eastern part of India. India is the fifth largest producer of pineapple with annual output of about 1.2 millions with West Bengal as the largest producer of pineapple in the country and the districts that are identified are mainly Jalpaiguri, and Siliguri sub-division of Darjeeling. The fruits like mango, litchi and jackfruit grown in the terai regions are also subjected to excessive losses. Every year the huge post-harvest losses occur as all fruits and vegetables grown in this region does not get processed. This ultimately has lead to less revenue for farmers in turn of their investments.

Therefore, professional personnel are required in the deeper dimensions of Food technology, to preserve the post-harvest loss reduction and export promotion to stimulate the surge of socioeconomic development of the farmers. We have therefore, started food technology course to educate and empower students who wish to pursue course in Food technology before they enter into the platform that offer them a plethora of opportunities.
